1951/52

The value of a college education is realized more fully today than ever before. Education is standing on a pedestal, unchallenged, as the hope of our world. It is recognized as the cornerstone of democracy and the principal means for maintaining the American way of life.

You who are about to enter the doors of the University of Maryland are beginning an important life of education for which you have been preparing for the last twelve or more years. You are probably beginning the last and most important part of your formal educational career. Realize, however, that college training should be merely another step in your lifelong education.

The most important things for you, the new student to have firmly fixed in your mind is definite goals toward which you intend to direct your efforts. In determining these goals you should remember that there are three sides to college life. Maryland offers scholastic, social, and practical education. Your duty to yourself and to your University is to give and take intelligently of each of the activities in which you participate.

The M-Book is the first link you will have with the many activities you will personally support and perhaps lead while at Maryland. Read through each section carefully. Use the calendar for a handy reminder of what to see and do as the months pass. Let the other sections give you names of students who are now campus leaders and with whom you should talk for tips on how you, too, may become a leader.

And while you are reading, keep the Honoraries section on a par with the Organizations and other sections. Remember that grades and activities should go hand in hand. Don't sacrifice one for the other, if you are to gain the most from your college career.

The University of Maryland will need your help during the next four years to remain in its position as a leading American institution. Into everything that you do for our school put your fullest effort, and in return a full crib of scholastic, social and practical education will be yours.

General Information

ACADEMIC

Classes at the University begin on the hour and last for 50 minutes. To gain the greatest measure of success in school students should realize that grades reflect more than just performance on examinations. Regular attendance in classes is more important to that average than last minute cramming.

There is no unlimited cut system. Students who have more than three unexcused absences are reported to the Dean of the College, and notices are sent to the student and to his parents. Absences may result in a lowering of the grade, or in complete course failure.

If a student desires to drop a course he must obtain permission from his Dean before the last designated date for dropping, generally eight weeks after the beginning of the semester (the date will be announced in the Diamondback) in order not to receive a failing grade in the course.

If an exam is missed, a make-up exam may usually be taken with the permission of the instructor and the payment of a $1.00 fee to the registrar. A student must receive a passing grade in at least one-half of his registered credit hours in order to remain in school. An average of C or better is required for Junior standing, for eligibility for major positions on publications, and for any class office, as well as for a degree.

Detailed instructions may be found in the Academic Regulations pamphlet which is published by the University.

ACTIVITIES FEE

The Student Activities Fee, which is paid by all undergraduates during registration, pays class dues and supports student publications, dramatic and musical productions, and other general student activities. Students are entitled to free copies of student publications, and may attend dramatic and musical productions free of charge.

ATHLETIC FEE

The Athletic Fee supports the intercollegiate sports program. Students may attend all sports events at the University free of charge, upon presentation of proper identification. An Athletic Book and ID Card identify students as such.

BOOKS and SUPPLIES

Text books, school supplies, and class materials as well as jewelry, stationery, post cards, and novelty items are available at the Student Supply Store, located in the basement of the Administration building. The Maryland Book Exchange, opposite the main gate, also handles books and supplies, both new and used. Operating on a non-profit basis, the Alpha Phi Omega Book Co-op, located in the Rossborough Inn, will be open during the first few weeks of school.

COMMUNICATIONS

Students' mail is handled through the campus Post Office which is located in the basement of the Administration building. Students receive their mail in boxes assigned to them during registration; notices of the arrival of packages are placed in the box and students may call for them at the window.

Postage stamps may also be purchased there, but for all other postal services the student must go to the Post Office in College Park, located on the Baltimore Boulevard just south of the main gate.

The campus Post Office provides a medium through which the Administration and campus organizations may communicate with students; therefore, students should check their boxes daily, if possible. In order to insure quick delivery, postal box numbers must be sent to all correspondents and used for inter-campus communication.

Telegrams are delivered or telephoned to the residences of students. Outgoing telegrams may be sent from the University's switchboard in the basement of the Education building.

Changes in address MUST be recorded with the registrar so that any telegrams or special delivery letters can be delivered immediately.

Pay station telephones are available in the dormitories, Administration building, Library, Recreation building, Dairy, and Education building.

EATING

At registration, resident students will be issued Dining Hall cards which must be presented at each meal. Daydodgers and those who live off campus may eat in the Cafeteria, located in the basement of the Dining Hall. Lunches and snacks may be bought in the Rec Hall. Coke and candy machines are located in the dorms and in the basement floors of several of the classroom buildings.

INFIRMARY

All undergraduates may receive dispensary service and medical advice at the Infirmary, open weekdays from 9 a. m. until 1, and 2 until 4; Saturday, 10 until noon, and Sunday, 11 until noon. A nurse is on duty twenty-four hours a day, and in emergencies students may call at any time.

LAUNDRY

Each student is responsible for his or her own laundry. There are several reliable laundry and dry cleaning establishments in College Park; or, if a student prefers, he may send his laundry home. Students may do their own laundry, with the exception of bed linens, in the laundry rooms of the dormitories.

LIBRARY

The Library and Library Annex are open from 7:30 a. m. until 10 p. m. Monday through Friday, 7:30 a. m. until 5 p. m. on Saturday and 3 until 5 p. m. on Sunday. Reserve books may be taken out overnight at 8 p. m. on weekday evenings and returned at 8 a. m. the next morning, or at 1 p. m. Saturday and returned at 8 a. m. Monday. Books may be checked out of the Loan desk on the second floor of the main building at any time for a two week period and may be renewed at the end of this time. Overdue books are subject to a fine of five cents per day, and reserve books overdue are subject to fines based on the number of minutes or hours late.

LIVING ACCOMMODATIONS

Miss Marian Johnson is in charge of on and off campus housing for women; Mr. Robert James is in charge of campus housing for men, and Mr. Doyle Royal is in charge of off campus housing for men and married students.

LOST and FOUND

The Campus Police Station is headquarters of the lost and found department. Students may turn in or recover articles at the station or at academic department offices.

MEETING ROOMS

The Agriculture Auditorium is located in the ground floor of the Agriculture building, in the west wing.

The central auditorium is located in the basement of the Education building.

The Armory lounge is located upstairs in the Armory.

The Recreation Hall lounges are in the east end of the Recreation building.

Room A-1 is between the BPA and A & S buildings.

For details on reserving above rooms and other meeting places refer to the Academic Regulations.

PUBLICATIONS DISTRIBUTION

The Tuesday and Friday editions of the Diamond-back, the student newspaper, are available at stands in the Ad building, A & S building, Engineering building, Library Lobby, Rec Hall and Dining Hall.

The University's humor magazine, the Old Line, is distributed in post office boxes and at various places on campus as announced in the Diamondback. In May, the Terrapin, University yearbook, is distributed. All three publications are received without charge as part of the Student Activities Fee paid at registration.

RECREATION BUILDING

Serving both daydodgers and resident students, the Rec Hall, located next to the Women's Field House, contains a large and small lounge, record library, television set, and has provisions for card and pool playing, chess tournaments, club meetings and dances. The lunch counter is open 8:30 a. m. until 4 p. m. weekdays, and 8:30 a. m. until 1 p. m. on Saturdays. Photo and Art exhibits are often shown in the building. Sports and national events are televised, and the set is for the use of students at any time the building is open. Parties, dances and meetings may be scheduled in the Rec Hall for evenings by seeing Bill Hoff, manager.

TICKET DISTRIBUTION

Students are admitted to all campus events by presenting proper identification at the door or gate. ID cards and Athletic Books serve to identify students at the Coliseum or Stadium, and must be presented by students making reservations for sports or dramatic events.

Reservations for sports events may be made at the athletic ticket office in the main Stadium building. The ticket office also sells "date" tickets, which provide admittance to the student stands.

Reservations for dramatic performances are obtained at the University Theatre box office, located in the basement of the Education building. Reserved seats are allocated a week prior to the performance. The office also sells date tickets.

TRAFFIC

Parking lot spaces are allotted during registration to persons who must drive and park on campus. All cars, both faculty and student, must be registered at the beginning of each year and assigned a parking lot sticker. Drivers of cars found by the University Police parked out of their designated lot will be fined $2.00. Parking lot stickers must be prominently displayed on each automobile. The campus police force is aided by State Police in enforcing traffic laws.

TRANSPORTATION

Greyhound and Trailways buses leave College Park at regular intervals for Baltimore and Washington, where other connections may be made by train, bus or airplane. Local bus and street car lines make connections to Hyattsville, Greenbelt, Branchville, Mount Rainier, Silver Spring, Cheverly, Takoma Park, and Bethesda. The trolley line ends in Washington. The B. & O. Railroad runs through College Park and furnishes express and baggage transportation.

History

The University of Maryland dates back to 1807 when the first school of the University, the College of Medicine, was founded in Baltimore. In the more than 140 years since its founding, the University has expanded both physically and in its standards of education, until it now occupies a position as one of the leading universities in the country.

After the College of Medicine was founded, there followed within a few years the establishment of several other professional schools to mark the first expansion of the University. The School of Law was added in 1823, the School of Dentistry in 1882, the School of Nursing in 1889, and in 1904, the Maryland College of Pharmacy completed the Baltimore additions.

At College Park, in 1856, Maryland State College, the first Agricultural college in the United States and the second in the western hemisphere, was established under the name of the Maryland Agricultural College. The college was financed by the sale of stock at $25 a share.

In 1862, this college became, in part, a state institution with the passage of the Land Grant Act by Congress. It was one of the first schools to benefit from this act and subsequent federal aids to education.

In 1920, the professional schools of the University in Baltimore, and the Maryland State College in College Park were merged to form what is now known as the University of Maryland.

Maryland's Great Seal, the oldest of the state seals, was sent to the province of Maryland in 1648 by Lord Baltimore. More than 300 years old, the seal is the only state seal of strictly heraldic character, for the other state seals bear emblems representing agriculture, commerce, or some related subject.

The escutcheon bears the Calvert and Crossland arms quartered. The first and fourth quarters are the Calvert Arms. The second and third quarters are from the Crossland, Baltimore's maternal arms. An earl's coronet and full-faced helmet are surmounted on the quarterings. These indicate Lord Baltimore's rank in America. The Calvert crest rests on the helmet. The escutcheon is supported on one side by the figure of a farmer, and on the other by that of a fisherman—symbols of each of Lord Baltimore's estates, Maryland and Avalon. Below the figures is the scroll bearing the Calvert motto: "Fatti Maschii Parole Femine," which means "Deeds are males; words, female." On a border encircling the seal is the legend: University of Maryland 1807.....1856.....1920.

Customs and Spirit

Maryland's customs, from bronze Testudo keeping guard in front of the Coliseum to the chimes in the tower of the Old Engineering building, will prove both stimulating and interesting to the incoming freshman class. A feeling of the timelessness of the University comes over the new student when he learns that the Rossborough Inn, located near the Baltimore Boulevard, was doing a thriving business about 1790 and is, perhaps, the nucleus of Maryland tradition.

The Tunnel, the Wishing Well, May Day—all are part of that tradition. They will be a part of your college career. The friendly "Hello Habit" which has always been a Maryland custom will quickly orient you. The pep rallies, convocations, and sport contests will heighten your growing school spirit. You will pass on the history and tradition of Maryland to those who will inhabit the campus after you.

Liza Ann Riggins, 1951 May Queen, leads her court down Ad building steps to the throne ▶

Traditions

Classes, study and group work are integral parts of our University scene, but colorful traditions and customs handed down through the years help create the most vivid memories of college life.

Many first year women are introduced to Maryland customs by sorority rushing previous to the beginning of school.

Freshmen couples usually are quick to follow such a revered custom as the traditional kisses exchanged during the first trip to the secluded Tunnel. The Freshman should remember, too, that dropping a penny in the wishing well at the Rossborough Inn guarantees that his wishes will come to reality.

The football season is accentuated by student enthusiasm as demonstrated in pep rallies, Homecoming celebrations, house decorations, the frosh-sophomore tug-of-war over Paint Branch Creek and the crowning of a queen. Perhaps the most popular custom at the University is the selection, many times a semester, of campus beauties to reign over every event from a cow-milking contest to a sailing regatta.

Without a mention of Testudo, the campus mascot, a discussion of the football season would not be complete. A tremendous 500 pound replica of this state's famous Diamondback Terrapin, which is known to the world in its most palatable form, "Terrapin a la Maryland," Testudo has endeared himself to Marylanders for years by always managing to escape the "foreigners" who kidnap him before many major games.

At Christmas time a pageant is held following the lighting of a Christmas tree. Carols are broadcast from the tower of Morrill Hall during the week preceding Christmas vacation.

All during the spring, sororities and fraternities gather their groups about the nearest pianos to rehearse for the Phi Kappa Tau Barber Shop quartet contest and the Tri Delt sponsored Interfraternity Sing. In the springtime, too, the south gate wall becomes a meeting ground for male students who wish to pass both the time of day and their judgment on coeds walking by. The number of fraternity pins and police parking tickets given out zooms during this period, not to mention "Keep off the grass!" campaigns in the Diamondback.

May Day soon heralds the approaching end of the Spring semester as students pause to honor the beloved May Queen with a traditional pageant. Mortar Board taps outstanding junior women during the festivities, too.

At this time one of Maryland's keenest rivals, Johns Hopkins, is encountered in the annual lacrosse game between the two schools. This event is one of the more rousing events of the athletic year.

Campaigning and electioneering for student government and class offices make very lively campus elections each spring.

The annual Honors and Awards Assembly, held just before graduation, recognizes achievement in scholarship, sports, AFROTC, publications, and other phases of University life.

Seniors leave their University life behind them at the graduation exercises on the Mall, but forever keep its memories.

The Administration

The Administration will be your guide while you are at the University of Maryland. Composed of all college deans, department-heads, and other personnel, the Administration is headed by the University President, Dr. H. C. Byrd. The offices of the President, Dean of Men, registrar, and cashier may be found in the Administration building. Make every effort to become acquainted with the members of the staff, and never hesitate to ask them for any help that you may need, for they are always ready and willing to be of assistance.

The S. G. A. office, the Post Office, and the book store are on the basement floor of the Administration building, where you will also find the Religious Counsellors office. Most students, daydodgers as well as residents, daily pass through the halls of this building. It is the nerve center of University life, just as the Administration is the nerve center of campus functions.

The new student should let an interest in both become a guiding light during his four years at the University.

TO MEMBERS OF THE FIRST YEAR CLASS:

The Freshman, in orienting himself with University life, finds himself confronted with many questions. The University's program is coordinated with the high school program. Yet, in some respects, a wide difference exists between the two. The student entering the University for the first time is cut loose from home ties and finds himself in a position where he must act independently and on his own judgment. Boys and girls are suddenly away from the disciplines of their homes and find that they face a problem of self discipline, in which often personal desires must be conquered.

It is my duty as President of the University, it is the duty of the Dean of Men and the Dean of Women particularly, and of all members of the faculty, to help you orient yourself to new conditions. Tell us what your problems are and our help will be given gladly. Ask any questions you may wish, even if you are afraid that some of them may seem simple.

Remember that you are welcomed to the University of Maryland as a member of the University family. As a family, we are obligated, and it is our pleasure, to help one another.

My office door always is open. Walk in whenever you need my help.

Sincerely,

President.

ADELE

Dean of Women

It is a privilege and a pleasure to extend greetings and a hearty welcome to all new and returning students through the "M" Book. To those of you who are entering our University for the first time, may I say that the door of my office is always open to you.

You will find my office and those of my assistants on the first and second floors of the Dean of Women's building. We are here to help you with your problems. A warm welcome awaits you from all of us, so stop by and get acquainted.

In recent years each Freshman entering the University has had his career modified by a somewhat different national situation,—mobilization, war, reconstruction, and near peace; now you are faced with possible war and all-out preparedness.

Your situation, nevertheless, is similar to your predecessors and the plan that brought success to them will do the same for you, that is, develop yourself mentally, socially, morally and physically. However, you have a particular responsibility for our government has decided there is a national need for college trained men and, as you are one of the fortunate ones to be in college, it behooves you to make the most valuable use of your opportunity so that later you may more efficiently serve your country.

It is nice to have you here and I hope you have an instructive, interesting and enjoyable stay at Maryland and feel free to stop in for a visit with me or any member of my staff.

Its main function is that of approving every club, honorary organization, or Greek letter sorority or fraternity which is established on the campus. Appointed by the President of the University, the committee is composed of faculty members who are seriously interested in the several aspects of campus life. Headed by Dean James H. Reid, it maintains constant surveillance on all activities, operates in an advisory capacity, and suggests improvements for any unsatisfactory conditions that may arise. The Committee also aids in the management of social affairs and has sanctioned various week-ends, including the Football Week-End, and Dads' Day.

Student Government Association

The University's organization for student guidance, the Student Government Association, is divided into three sections: the Executive Council, the Men's League and the Women's League.

At the very apex is the Executive Council, the supreme student organization which decides questions of student policy, appropriates activities funds, and supervises all extracurricular activities. The Leagues are responsible for the enforcement of campus regulations.

The student activities fee, paid at registration, finances dances, games, shows and other student activities, and is prorated to the various activities by the Executive Council. The Council holds meetings every two weeks, at which all students are welcome.

The actual work of the Association is performed by committees composed of interested students and headed by qualified applicants. All students may work on committees, experience being the basis for selection of committee heads.

Meet your SGA and class officials, and ask questions about student activities. Only by maintaining an acute interest in local affairs can you help to bring the improvements which many others of you will insist are needed.

WRIGHT
S. G. A. President

It is with pride and pleasure that I welcome you to our ranks. For the next four years you will find this campus your home. You will find here companionship, friendship, and understanding.

You have climbed the ladder of education and knowledge from the teachings of your home to grade school, junior high school, high school, and now you are within reach of the top.

The Freshmen of today will be the leaders of tomorrow. You are the men and women who will give life to the University as older students graduate. One of you will be the President of the Student Government before you graduate.

Attend meetings, join committees, and apply for positions. Serve your school, your fellow students, and yourself.

Elections

Student Government Association and class offices are filled by elections which take place in the spring. If three candidates for offices are nominated, a primary is held a week prior to the final election. Maryland's election campaigns have come to be as eye-catching and colorful as local and national elections. Candidates and their supporters rely on many means—the more dramatic the better—to gain votes.

Any student may run for an office. Candidates for Executive Council posts must be nominated from the floor of the SGA at a specially designated meeting. Class office candidates must procure a specified number of petition signatures prior to the deadline in order to run. Normally an assembly is held at which candidates state their qualifications. The campus radio station, newspaper, and a host of posters are used in letting the student body know just who is running for what.

Constitution

The Student Government Association operates under a constitution which was approved by the student body in a special 1950 spring election. The Constitution provides for the election of SGA and class officials; for the operation of the Men's and Women's League; for the organization of committees; for initiative, petition, referendum and recall; for meetings, and publications; and for by-laws to govern additional activities.

Committees

The Student Government Association operates through the use of committees, set up by the Executive Council and composed of students who have expressed an interest in working for extracurricular events. Any student may become a member of a committee. He has only to show an interest in the SGA and a desire to work for the benefit of the student body.

As soon as a committee is set up, notices announcing the organization of the group are printed in the University newspaper, and are posted on the bulletin board near the SGA office, in the basement of the Administration building. A list is then maintained in the SGA office which interested persons are asked to sign. The committee membership is made up from this list.

Chairmanships on each SGA committee are filled in a similar manner. Following announcement of the need of a particular committee chairman, interested students may write a letter stating their qualifications and experience, giving the name of the position for which they are applying, and submit it to the University post office, Box No. 1.

Applications for committee chairmanships are screened by the SGA Organization and Procedure Committee, which makes a recommendation to be voted upon by the Executive Council. Final approval of committee heads comes from the Council.

Within each committee are a number of sub-committees, such as publicity, decorations, refreshments, tickets, and the like. It is customary to select for sub-committee heads persons who have worked on either the same sub-committee or similar sub-committees previously.

All SGA activities, which include all student activities on campus not controlled by special boards or faculty committees, are under the supervision of the Faculty Committee on Student Life, an advisory administrative board which sanctions or disapproves operations of student organizations and oversees the appropriation of activities funds.

Constitutional Committees

The SGA Constitution provides for the appointment of the Committee on Ways and Means, the Committee on Elections, and the Committee on Organization and Procedure.

Special Committees

The president of the Executive Council has also set up the following committees with the approval of the Council:

- Student Welfare Committee
- Social Affairs Committee
- Campus Improvement Committee
- Student Activities Committee
- Constitution Committee
- Campus Chest Committee
- Freshman Orientation Committee
- Homecoming Committee
- Student Union Committee
- Public Relations Committee
- Traffic Appeals Board
- Job Placement Committee

Women's League
President

Women's League is the representative body for the University's women students, and all women are members of the organization.

As a new student, you will find that you encounter the League often in your University life, for it formulates, administers, and interprets the rules governing women students. If you are a campus resident you will see the important role the League plays in dormitory life. It conducts house meetings, assists the dormitory housemothers, and handles violations of rules governing resident women.

Women's League also participates actively in campus programs. During the past year it has sponsored informal Friday night mixers (dances). May Day afternoon the league also invites new Mortar Board tappers and the May Day court to a tea in the Rossborough Inn.

The League is a self-governing organization, with representatives from each house for women students on or near campus, from the daydodgers, and the Pan-Hellenic Association. The officers of the League are elected by the women students and meetings are open to all women.

Business meetings are held once a week at which subjects vital to the women of the campus are discussed.

The constitution of the Women's League was revised last year, in order to simplify the context and make it easier to read. This set of practical rules will be distributed in pamphlet form to all freshman women.

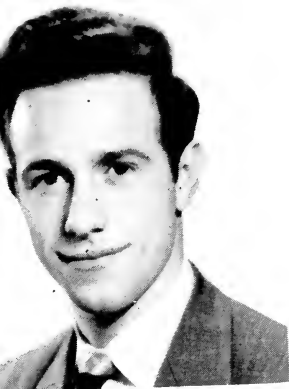

Under the new constitution, the League is divided into three branches. The Executive Board or governing body is composed of representatives from all groups who are seated in the Women's League itself.

The Legislative Board includes representatives from all women's dwellings plus members of the executive council.

The Judicial branch is composed of nine junior and senior women who are appointed by the Executive Board.

Members of the Executive and Legislative Councils meet bi-weekly. The Judicial board meets once a week to penalize those who break the rules of the League.

The League is chiefly concerned with campus residents, but it is interested in encouraging more active participation of the commuting women students. Under the new constitution these women will have more opportunity for taking part in campus life.

Message from
NICK
NICHOLAS
Men's League
President

As the Student Government Association serves the student body as a whole, the Men's League serves the male students on campus. Divided into two segments, the Executive Council and the Dormitory Council, the League tries to maintain a rigid, healthful standard of living conditions in the men's dormitories.

The Executive Council of the League, composed of a president, vice-president and representatives of various campus groups, serves as the guiding hand in the life of male students.

The Dormitory Council serves as a disciplinary board for offenders of dormitory regulations, and attempts to encourage dorm activity and comradeship through proctors.

The proctors are older students who are responsible for the maintenance of order and discipline in the dormitories, and who serve as advisors and counsellors to the students. They will require the observance of quiet hours, cleanliness and orderliness, and will enforce all dormitory regulations.

The Men's League office is located in Room 12 of Dormitory "O". All male students are welcome at meetings of the League, which are held every two weeks.

Students will be held responsible for keeping their rooms swept and clean at all times. Quiet hours will be observed from 7:30 p. m. to 7 a. m. except on Saturday nights. All unnecessary noise and disorder will be prohibited.

Radios will not be played loudly, and gambling and intoxicating beverages will not be permitted in the dormitories. The University will not be responsible for valuables left in rooms. Students are cautioned to keep their rooms locked at all times.

Public telephones are located in Dormitories E, G, L, Calvert A, and in the temporary residences. University telephones are placed in each dormitory office. Messages will be delivered to students' rooms, but no student will be called to the telephone.

Students will be held financially responsible by the University for all damage to rooms beyond the range of ordinary depreciation. Walls must not be defaced in any manner. Scotch tape or stickers will be used in place of nails to hang pennants, calendars or other wall posters.

Neither cooking, pets, nor firearms will be allowed in the dormitories. A strict rule of courtesy, cleanliness, and plain old common sense will be the rule throughout the residences as well as elsewhere on the University campus.

Publications

Students with writing or business ability are invited to work on any of the University's four publications where they may learn the functions of the editorial, advertising and circulation departments.

The Diamondback, student newspaper, is published twice weekly, on Tuesday and on Friday. Presenting a pictorial scene of Maryland campus life is the yearbook, the Terrapin. For the past three years the Diamondback and the Terrapin have received All-American ratings for publications in their fields. The yearbook was chosen as the number one university annual in the country by Pi Delta Epsilon, last year.

Creative writing and drawings are found in the magazine, the Old Line, well known as Maryland's humor magazine. The M Book, a freshman handbook, is published once a year and mailed to all incoming students.

There is always a need for new and fresh talent in the publications' offices, located in the rear of the Rec Hall. Freshmen are urged to begin work on publications during their first year so they may advance to major positions if they show interest and ability in minor assignments.

Contributions and suggestions are always welcomed by the staff members.

A group of student publications' staffers discuss type near their master—the press ▶

Publications Board

Making appointments for positions on the publications and acting as an advisory committee for all student publications is the duty of the Publications Board, a faculty-student group.

The Board is composed of four faculty members: William H. Hottel, faculty adviser of publications; Alfred C. Crowell, head of the Journalism department; Dr. James H. Reid, chairman of the Student Life Committee, and Dean of Women Adele Stamp. Students on the committee are SGA president Frank Wright, Pi Delta Epsilon president G. Lawson Jump, and the editors of the three major publications; David Kelly, Diamondback; William Strasser, Old Line, John Durkee, Terrapin.

The group meets at frequent intervals to discuss publications problems and policy.

Pi Delta Epsilon

It is hoped that the Freshman manual will be useful to the new student and serve as a reference during his college years and a souvenir of college life.

Creative writing and sketches and jokes are printed in the Old Line, the student literary and humor magazine, published six times a year.

Attempting to combine both ideas of humor and of a serious nature, the staff welcomes persons with any ideas. Catering to what Maryland students want in their magazine, the Old Line "lines up" its eighteenth year of publication this semester.

The office is located across from the Diamondback office in the rear of the Rec Hall.

University Catalogue

Each of the eight colleges at Maryland publishes a separate catalogue giving entrance requirements and information on fees and facilities.

The pamphlets give the curricula and requirements of the college for graduation. Following the number and title of each course offered in the college is a brief description of material covered in the course.

Student Directory

The University publishes, shortly after the beginning of the fall semester, a student directory which lists alphabetically the names of undergraduate and graduate students with their campus address and phone and their home address. The year and college is printed beside each name.

Similar information is given for members of the faculty and the administration. Listings of all campus offices may be found in the directory.

Maryland Magazine

Designed principally for alumni, The Maryland Magazine is published by the University six times a year. Articles about the University and alumni are printed.

The magazine, the directory and catalogues may be purchased at the book store.

Religion

You are now one of a living family, the College Community. Within this family are folks with whom you will live, study, and share problems. Also within this family are those who are searching for answers to life's problems and questions. For example: "Why am I here? What is my destiny? For what am I living?" Have you answered these questions?

In the present world crisis man must settle these problems if he is to be capable of meeting the conflicting situations before him. So it is that your religion and the worship of God do not stop upon entrance to the University of Maryland. It is here, as never before, that these questions will be and must be asked and answered.

The Religious clubs on campus will be glad to see you. They want to assist you in answering your questions and will extend to you a most warm welcome. These clubs will provide you with a church away from home.

We bid you to frequent their activities; share yourself with them; visit the Chapel regularly for prayer and meditation; talk with the clergy—they want to know you. WORSHIP—PRAY—SERVE—EVANGELIZE—PARTAKE OF FELLOWSHIP! On these five things base your college life that your college experience may build to the Glory of God and, as a result, create a college experience most meaningful to you.

The steeple rises to its place of glory atop the University's newly constructed Chapel ▶

The University's New Chapel

The University's new million-dollar chapel is to be ready for use this semester and will serve as a place of worship for all faiths on campus. Architect Henry Hopkins combined various designs suggested by visits to churches and chapels around the country to give us our long awaited chapel.

The main chapel will hold about 1,000 persons in an auditorium of sufficient size to accommodate all the on-campus members of the different denominations. Offices for clergymen of various denominations are located in the building and in addition to the main sanctuary, a small chapel, accommodating 100 persons is located in the rear of the structure.

Chapel Choir

A chapel choir will be organized this year to sing in the new Chapel after its completion. All students who are interested in joining such a musical organization, singing at regular Sunday services and performing as a group on other occasions, will find further information concerning this group's organization in the Diamondback.

Religious Life Committee and Student Religious Council

The Religious Life Committee, composed of several faculty members, acts as an advisory board to the Student Religious Council. Each year the Council sponsors a religious emphasis week which includes well known religious authorities as speakers for firesides, panel discussions, and skeptics' hours.

The Council has been fortunate in obtaining again the Reverend Bryan Green, a Church of England rector from Birmingham, England, as the major speaker for this year's Religion-in-Life Week.

Student Religious Council officers are as follows:

President .....	DIANE VARN
Vice President .....	GINGER ROWLAND
Secretary .....	RITA WHITE
Treasurer .....	CULVER LADD

Meetings are to be held at the Chapel at 4:00 every Tuesday. The Student Religious Council coordinates the religious activities on campus and promotes inter-faith relations among religious clubs. The Council consists of the president, one other member, and an advisor from each campus religious club.

Religion in Life Week

Religion in Life Week is opened with an inter-faith service. Following this there are church services, teas, suppers, and vesper services. Arrangements are made for individual conferences and counselling facilities are available. Highlighting the week are visits of many outstanding speakers. These visitors talk to the religious clubs, attend dinners and "firesides" at dormitories, fraternities and sororities, and conduct forums and seminars.

Religious Counsellor's Office

Religious guidance and information of campus and nearby church services are available in the Religious Counsellor's office in the basement of the Administration Building.

Honors

Since the principal purpose of a university is to train better citizens, the development of a well-rounded, informed, personality should be the aim of every student. At the University of Maryland are 27 societies, membership in which is based to some degree on leadership, scholarship, or service.

Election to one of the honorary societies is a legitimate aim for each Freshman who comes to the University with a serious intent to receive from his four years the most which the University has to offer.

A maxim to ever remember, however, is that the amount of satisfaction one gets out of his college career is directly proportional to the interest and work he puts into it. Feel sorry for the ever-gripping student who has never asked himself, "What have I done to improve this situation?"

However, to be tapped by an honorary is to receive recognition for the worth of one's contributions to University life or for one's attainments in personal achievements in his selected field.

*An honor student humbly receives his award
during 1951 awards assembly* ▶

Freshman Honors and Awards

While most of the honorary societies elect only upper classmen, there are honors open to Freshmen which are worthy of one's best effort. Alpha Lambda Delta for women and Phi Eta Sigma for men are open only to Freshmen. Membership in these organizations is based solely on scholarship.

Omicron Nu, Home Economics honorary, presents an award to the freshman woman in that College who attains the highest scholastic average during her first semester.

Alpha Zeta, Agriculture honorary, presents the Alpha Zeta Medal to the freshman student who attains the highest average in culture.

The Sigma Chi Cup is awarded to the man in the freshman class who makes the highest scholastic average during the first semester.

Pi Delta Epsilon, honorary journalism fraternity, awards a cup to the outstanding freshman journalist.

The Chemistry Department presents an award to the outstanding Chemistry I student.

A Danforth Summer Scholarship is presented to both a first year woman in the College of Home Economics and a first year man enrolled in the College of Agriculture.

A mediocre high school record need not prevent the attainment of honors in college. Interesting subject matter and added maturity stimulate achievement. With regular and adequate hours of study (a minimum of two hours each evening for each class hour is recommended), honors and awards are within the reach of everyone.

The University Theatre and Clef and Key present productions for campus audiences. The Creative Dance Group and the University orchestra each give an annual campus concert.

The University also brings several outstanding music groups and musicians to the campus in connection with the cultural program. The Baltimore Symphony is one of these groups that presents an annual concert in the Coliseum.

Sororities

To many coeds, the social side of college life takes the form of a sorority. Approximately a week before the beginning of registration, houses open their doors of friendship and group activity to all prospective new members.

You, the incoming coed, will be the most "prospective" of all. In order that your sorority experience might be one that is real and full, remember not to let your choice of a sorority group be based on the size of house or wealth of the group. Judge from points which to you seem to be important. Choose personalities which appeal: remember, you'll have to live with them.

Sororities are limited by the number of persons they can adequately accommodate, and sometimes overlook potentially fine members. If you don't fit at first, don't lose interest. Remember, college success and happiness depend least of all on a sorority, and most of all on you.

Panhellenic Council

President .....	HELEN CAREY
Vice-President .....	SUZANNE MILLER
Secretary .....	MELLIS ROCHE
Treasurer .....	PEGGY HOLMAN

The purpose of the Panhellenic Council is the maintenance of a wholesome sorority spirit and inter-sorority relations within the University, to further sound scholarship and high social standards, and to compile rules governing rushing, pledging, and initiation.

Important Rush Rules

All sorority women and students interested in rushing should be thoroughly familiar with these rules and should adhere to them at all times.

Formal rushing is that period beginning with the open house teas and continuing until pledging. Rushees shall be entertained at sorority houses only at designated times during formal rush week. Alpha Epsilon, Phi Delta Phi, and Phi Sigma Sigma will begin rushing several days later to avoid conflicting with the Yom Kippur Holidays.

Neither men, non-sorority women nor alumnae may be present at any rush functions. No eligible students shall be allowed in sorority houses during formal rushing except during specified rush functions.

No sorority women shall be allowed to enter the dormitories where the new students are residing unless she is living there also. No rushee shall be treated outside of the sorority.

Standard Panhellenic Rules

Any woman student who is eligible for matriculation at the University and is unaffiliated with any National Panhellenic Fraternity is eligible for formal rushing.

Students in the University summer school are ineligible for rushing until September when sororities become active. A pledge expires one calendar year from the date of pledging at which time the student is eligible for pledging another sorority.

During rush week, if a girl expresses her preference in writing, or formally accepts a bid, or wears the colors of a sorority during open rushing following rush week, she is ineligible for pledging another sorority, whether or not she has been through formal service.

A pledge who is released by a chapter at any time during her pledge year, or who breaks her pledge, is ineligible for pledging a sorority until one calendar year from the date on which her pledge was broken. This regulation is binding regardless of the campus on which the student may be enrolled.

Pledges who have completed fifteen credit hours in the preceding semester in the University with at least a C average, who have no failures on their record for that semester, who are resident students in good standing, and who have been cleared with the Dean of Women's office may be initiated into a sorority.

Fraternities

A few weeks after school begins Rotary dances and smokers will mark the opening of Formal Rushing. You will find it impossible to visit all of the fraternities in the limited time you will have. However, you should make an effort to see as many fraternities as possible. Attempt to meet all the brothers at the rush functions and learn the financial set-up of the fraternities you visit. Since this will be an important decision in your college life do not let yourself be "high pressured" into committing yourself to one fraternity before you have had a chance to learn something of the other fraternities. Remember that the right fraternity is the fraternity of your choice.

*"The kiss that seals," the pin that binds . . . .
and another sorority chick bites the dust* ▶

Fraternity Criteria

The National Interfraternity Conference was founded in 1908 as a means of bringing about closer harmony between the national fraternities. Questions of mutual interest are discussed at the annual conferences and recommendations are made to the fraternities. The sixty-four national fraternities which make up the National Interfraternity Conference must meet strict qualifications for membership. These fraternities send about three hundred and fifty officers and alumni and about fifty deans of men and college presidents to their annual conferences. Also attending these conferences are the National Undergraduate Councils from campuses throughout the United States and Canada which are sponsored by the National Interfraternity Conference. A Year Book, the report of its annual meeting containing much valuable information about college fraternity life, is published by the Conference.

The following criteria was written in 1934 by the Executive Committee of the Conference and the Educational Advisory Council in order to advance co-operation between fraternities and educational institutions. The statement was subsequently approved by the American Association of Deans and Advisers of Men and by the Conference itself. It reads as follows:

1. That the objectives and activities of the fraternity should be in entire accord with the aims and purposes of the institutions at which it has chapters.

2. That the primary loyalty and responsibility of a student in his relations with his institution are to the institution, and that the association of any group of students as a chapter of a fraternity involves the definite responsibility of the group for the conduct of the individual.

3. That the fraternity should promote conduct consistent with good morals and good taste.

4. That the fraternity should create an atmosphere which will stimulate substantial intellectual progress and superior intellectual achievement.

5. That the fraternity should maintain sanitary, safe and wholesome physical conditions in the chapter house.

6. That the fraternity should inculcate principles of sound business practice both in chapter finances and in the business relations of its members.

These criteria should be applied in close co-operation with the administrative authorities of the institution. Detailed methods of application will necessarily vary in accordance with local conditions. It is the purpose of the National Interfraternity Conference to offer detailed suggestions, after further study and investigation, regarding practical steps to make this co-operation effective.

(This article is printed by request of the Interfraternity Council.)

Interfraternity Council

President.....MARVIN PERRY

The local chapter of the Interfraternity Council was established on the Maryland campus in 1926. The purpose of the council is to foster harmonious relations between the University and the fraternities and among the fraternities themselves. One of the duties of the Council is the improvement of the fraternity system.

During the year the Interfraternity Council sponsors several social events. The Interfraternity dance and the annual Interfraternity athletic program are included in this social calendar. The Council also awards scholarships and activities cups to the fraternities.

The rushing program also falls under the supervision of the Council and it helps to orient the students to fraternity policies and customs.

SPORTS

Athletics

Whether you are varsity material or just feel like playing ball now and then, Maryland athletics have a place for you. Besides the powerhouse football teams and fast breaking basketball quintet, there are over 1,700 men and women engaged in intramural sports. The Maryland sports program is a year around one. Starting with stiff competition of the intramural touch football leagues and the razzle-dazzle of the split T on Homecoming day, through the rock-em, sock-em boxing season and rugged ping-pong tournaments, to the Indian's mayhem, lacrosse, and the safer, but just as exciting track season, Maryland sports play an important role in the life of every Old Liner student.

JAMES M. TATUM

Director of Athletics

Statistics

The 1950-51 Maryland varsity teams climbed to new heights from the statistical standpoint. All of the teams registered a combined average for the year of .712, a marked increase over the previous year's .674. Every team finished in the black except the golf and track teams. Track however made up for its dual meet losses by copping the first S. C. outdoor track title in Maryland history.

Head Coach—JAMES M. TATUM

The 1950 football season found the Maryland eleven going from the heights of success to the bottom of the gloomy ladder and back to the heights again. Such vaunted powers as Navy and Michigan State fell before the Terrapin football machine, but North Carolina State threw the one big monkey wrench in the works with a stunning Homecoming defeat. The only other loss on the Liner schedule came at the hands of Georgia in the season's opener. The record for the whole schedule reads seven wins, two defeats and one tie.

Several gridiron records fell by the wayside during the 1950 season. Halfback "Shoo Shoo" Shemonski led the Southern Conference scoring with 97 points, a new high in Terp history. The team romped over Virginia Tech, 63-7, and rolled up a record 577 yards rushing.

Maryland's All-America football player, Bob Ward, will be back at his guard position in the coming season, but sixteen other grid stalwarts left Maryland via graduation in June. However, a new Conference ruling that allows freshmen to play varsity ball and several capable men from last year's frosh squad are expected to ease the losses.

Two new additions to the schedule, Missouri and Louisiana State, make 1951 loom as a new mark in Terp football.

Basketball Coach

BUD MILLIKAN

Basketball

A new era came to Maryland during the last basketball season. A new coach, Bud Millikan, in his first year with the Liners, turned the tide that had been flowing against Maryland's basketball fortunes.

Millikan piloted the Terps to a 15 win, 10 loss season mark. The previous year had found the Maryland basketball team winning only seven of 25 games. The 1950-51 court squad advanced to the semi-final round of the Southern Conference playoffs before bowing to champ N. C. State.

A close look at statistics shows why the Terps did so well in basketball. Making every opportunity count, the Maryland team ended with a 39.8 percentage in field goal shooting to lead the nation. They made good on 481 of 1,210 shots at the basket. The Terps were eighth in the nation on free throws and 24th on defense.

Lee Brawley, dead-eye Maryland forward, was the team's leading scorer with 404 points.

Track Coach

Track

For the first time in Maryland athletic history, the Terrapin trackmen carried off top honors in the annual outdoor championship meet. Coupled with the cross country title won during the fall, the trackmen have earned the name of champion on the Maryland campus. Coach Jim Kehoe saw some of his own records fall and he saw a string of dual meet victories broken, but the title helped to ease the pain of those happenings.

Morty Cohen led the squad with over 100 points scored in competition and many first places in the hurdle races and broad jump. Cohen will be back to pace this year's team along with many other outstanding track and field men.

Soccer

The soccer team wound up a highly successful season by repeating its winning of the Southern Conference championship. In taking the crown, the Terps defeated four Conference foes by the overwhelming total of 17 goals to one. Only losses on the schedule were to Penn State and Westchester Teachers.

June graduation claimed six of the soccermen who have carried Liner colors. Among the six was Jim Belt, several times an All-America booter choice.

Wrestling Coach

“SULLY” KROUSE

Wrestling

A season's mark of five wins and three losses in dual competition, plus a Southern Conference championship marked a successful season for the varsity wrestling team and coach Sully Krouse. The five and three was a repeat of the previous season, but the title was something new.

Joel Adleberg became the Liner's first S. C. titleholder since the days of Krouse, himself. Adleberg is co-captain of this year's team along with Ray Lysakowski. Both men registered seven wins against a lone loss during the last season.

Boxing Coach
HARVEY MILLER

Boxing

Boxing has always been among the favorites with all Terp fans. Terp boxing teams have done much to keep their place with the fans. Last year's team battled to six wins in eight matches. The boxers tied one match and lost one.

Outstanding victories on the 1950 schedule were wins over Louisiana State and Michigan State.

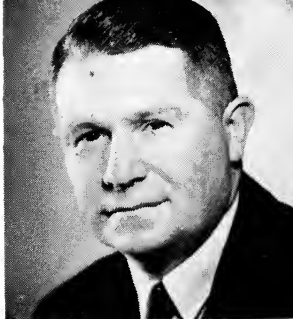

Leading the team during the last season were Captain Andy Quattrocchi and Paul Kostopolous. Quattrocchi fought in the 135-lb. class and Kostopolous at 145.

Baseball Coach

BURTON SHIPLEY

Baseball

The Maryland baseball team completed its 28th season under the direction of Coach Burton Shipley with the best record in the history of Terp baseball. In regular season play the team captured 18 games and dropped five. Previous to this, the best Maryland baseball records were in 1934 and 1939.

By winding up first in the Northern division of the Southern Conference, Maryland earned a place in the loop playoffs. Duke eliminated the Terps in the first round.

Three men were chosen on the Southern Conference All-star team. Don Soderberg was selected as a pitcher, Jim Moeller at first base, and Bob Heinbaugh also in the infield. Maryland placed more men on the All-star team than any other school in the conference.

Leading pitcher on the team last year was Soderberg. In 60 innings, Soderberg allowed 46 hits, struck out 59 men and had a earned-run average of 1.50. His game record was seven wins and two defeats.

Lacrosse Coaches: FABER AND HEAGY

Lacrosse

Injuries played an important role during the last lacrosse season as Coach Jack Faber experimented with players in new positions and juggled the line-ups to meet the needs of the hour. The juggling proved fairly successful and the stickmen completed their season with a record seven wins and three losses.

FRANK CRONIN

Golf

After a big year in 1950 the varsity golf team had a letdown in 1951 and ended up in the red. The linksmen had a season total of five wins against seven defeats. A great deal of the fault during the '51 season can be attributed to the fact that the squad was inexperienced. This fault will not be present in the coming season. Most of last season's varsity will be back and several good golfers are expected to move up from the freshman team.

As proof of the fact that experience counts, Coach Frank Cronin can point to the fact that his team won their last three matches in a blazing finish.

Team captain Dick Sturges posted a phenomenal 61 in the Western Maryland Invitational tournament to set a record for the Westminster course. The Terps managed to gain the fourth spot out of nine teams entered in the tourney.

Bob Miller led the team throughout the season with the lowest average score. His season's record was 77.3.

Tennis

Tennis Coach
DOYLE ROYAL

By finishing the 1951 season with 12 wins and just one defeat, the Terrapin tennis team wound up with one of the best net records in Maryland tennis history.

John McCool was the team's steady winner and extended his personal win streak over two seasons.

Both George Washington and Georgetown fell before the Liner tennis squad, to give Maryland the mythical Metropolitan area crown.

Freshmen Sports

The fact that there is a place in Maryland athletics for everyone cannot be over emphasized. Plenty of opportunity is available. The place for all freshmen to get started in sports if they have any varsity ambitions is on the frosh teams. All of the sports field a freshman counterpart and ample notice is given before the start of each season to let the new Terrapins know where and when.

Frosh team schedules are limited, but practice is thorough. Able coaches are provided to guide the freshmen athletes. The development and record of the frosh teams means a great deal to the varsity squads and coaches who fill the vacancies on the teams from the frosh and discover the stars of the future varsity lineup.

Frosh Football

Last season freshmen gridgers were led by former Maryland backfield ace, Jim LaRue. The Terp yearlings played a full five game schedule, the limit in the Southern Conference and won three games.

The game with the North Carolina frosh was considered the highlight of the season. A late flurry gave the Liners a 29-20 victory after the Tar Heels had battled to a 20-20 tie in the dying moments of the game. On the other hand, the worst defeat of the season came at the hands of the young Mountaineers of West Virginia.

Frosh Soccer

The freshman counterpart of the booter squad of last year is being counted on for big things by the new varsity team. Six stalwarts of last year's S. C. champ varsity team have graduated, leaving many vacancies to be filled.

The 1950 freshman soccer team earned a .500 average for a five game schedule by winning two games, losing two, and tying one. Victories were earned over Mount St. Joseph's of Baltimore and St. Albans of Washington. Navy and Frostburg State were the two winners over the Terps while the University of Virginia was the lone tie.

Frosh Track

An indoor track championship was the main achievement of the frosh tracksters during the past year. A fairly unsuccessful cross country season found the freshmen dropping four meets. Several outstanding distance and sprint men showed up on the past freshman teams who will bolster the coming varsity squad. Last year's varsity won its first outdoor title in Maryland history.

Frosh Basketball

Coach Burris Husman and his team of frosh hoopsters scored 11 wins out of 16 games in the 1950-51 basketball campaign and gave promise of passing several outstanding players along as varsity material.

Leading scorers of the frosh were Ed Cahill and Gene Shue. They tallied 158 and 154 points, respectively. Of special note was the fact that quite a few of the frosh were tall, and height has been needed by the varsity five.

The better than average record included wins over George Washington, Georgetown, and Loyola.

Frosh Wrestling

Rated as one of the best frosh wrestling teams ever to represent the University of Maryland, last Year's squad will add plenty of pep to the varsity this year. The 1950-51 team ran up a total of seven wins against no losses. Coach Bob Miller will pass many notable prospects to varsity mentor Sully Krouse.

Five members of the freshman wrestling team carried unbeaten records through the season. They are Rod Norris, Bob and Ernie Fischer, Cliff Mathews, and Carl Everley. The team's outstanding wins were over the Navy Plebes and Camp Lejeune Marines.

Frosh Boxing

With only a two match schedule to show their stuff, the frosh boxers didn't get too much of an opportunity to serve notice of the varsity value. However, a split, one win and one loss, did give the new ringmen a chance to show some of their power.

Several promising boxers from the last year's freshman team are expected to join this year's mitt crew. Frank Cronin handles the coaching chores for the newcomers.

Frosh Baseball

Frosh baseball, always one of the top freshman sports, again compiled an excellent record for the 1951 season. Coach Al Pobiak played 13 games and chalked up nine of them as victories.

As with most of the other teams, the yearling diamond squad showed plenty of talent that will be welcomed by its varsity counterpart.

Freshman baseball usually issues its call shortly after the regular nine starts practice.

Frosh Tennis

Nearby high schools furnished most of the competition for the freshman netters as they swatted through fairly successful. Among the tennis prospects who will be moving up to vie for a varsity berth this year are John Myer, Howard Golding, and Ray Blank. All three had long unbeaten streaks during the last campaign.

Frosh Lacrosse

A highly satisfactory stick season found the freshmen winning four matches and losing only one. Coach Charlie Herbert and his team lost only to a sharp shooting Navy Plebe ten while licking such outfits as Hopkins, Baltimore Junior College, Charlotte Hall, and Severn. The win over Hopkins, the first for a Terp team in five years, was an omen of bigger things to come on the varsity field.

The lacrosse squad is also ready and willing to accept the frosh talent to fill the many positions left empty by June graduation.

Frosh Golf

The varsity golf team is one that is counting on some experience to bolster the coming season's record. The freshman team of last year will have to provide much of that experience. Bill Bruppert and Don Beach are two linksmen who figure in the rebuilding plans of the varsity mentor.

The frosh golf team usually makes the rounds of the local high schools, most of whom play a flashy brand of golf.

Men's Intramurals

From a statistical standpoint Maryland's main athletic activity is not carried out by the varsity teams that compete in intercollegiate circles, but, instead, on the intramural level within the University.

More than 1,500 men of the University participate in intramural athletics in one form or another. The sports include touch football, horseshoes, tennis, cross country, boxing, wrestling, badminton, volleyball, basketball, table tennis, bowling, foul shooting, gymnastics, softball, golf and track.

All of the team sports are divided into both Open and Fraternity leagues, with the winners of each playing for the school title at the end of the season.

Often, winners of the various events participate in tournaments against the winners from other nearby schools. This adds competition to the program. Maryland teams have always proved successful in these tournaments.

Among the many prizes and trophies that are awarded, a cup is presented each year to the fraternity which has amassed the most points. Medals, gold for the first place team members and silver for the second place team, are presented for each sport.

The intramural program at Maryland is directed by Coach Jim Kehoe. The intramural office is located in the Armory.

Women's Director

Women's Intramurals

The intramural program for women was established by the Women's Physical Education Department. The Department is given assistance by the Women's Recreational Association, a student organization composed of physical education majors.

This program is set up to insure activities starting shortly after registration and lasting through May. These activities include all popular sports.

Tournaments are held each year in hockey, bowling, basketball, volleyball and badminton. Each tournament is sponsored and governed by the Women's Recreational Association. The sororities, the women's dormitories, daydodgers, and faculty members enter teams in these contests. A campus champion is determined in each sport.

Women's intramurals are directed by Dr. Dorothy Deach. The offices for all women's athletics are located in the Women's Fieldhouse.

Swimming Pool

Last year there was great activity at the Women's Field House. Everyone was curious about the addition which slowly materialized. This Fall Freshman women will be able to enjoy the new facilities. The addition to the Women's Field House contains a new swimming pool which is the standard size, 75 by 35 feet. The depth of the pool ranges from three feet six inches at the shallow end to ten feet in the deep section. At the deep end of the pool are two one-meter diving boards; a seven foot six inch wide walkway borders the water. The primary tile colors are white and green, while the numerals and lane markings on the floor of the pool are in blue, black, and tan. Light to illuminate the structure is obtained by windows set high in the walls and by aluminum capped light bulbs and flood lights. There are locker facilities for approximately fifty girls, as well as a hair-drying room and showers.

The overall height of the building on the outside varies from 27 feet over the pool area to 35 feet over the rest of the structure. On the first floor is a lounge, and office space for members of the Women's Physical Education department faculty. The second floor contains a dance studio, a body mechanics room and a photo lab which is adjacent to the exercise room.

Songs and Cheers

Much of the romance surrounding college life is connected with the enthusiasm and music attendant at football games and other athletic events. No college's story would be complete without the songs and cheers which express its spirit. Maryland's rapid growth as a state university and its newly acquired position as a leader in collegiate sports has brought more and larger crowds to fill the spacious stadium. Maryland has its share of expressive songs woven about the history and environment of the University. Cheers add to the enthusiasm and color of the big games. That you may better join in the enthusiasm and excitement that sweep an expectant crowd, you will want to learn the school songs and cheers.

The main organizers of the pre-game pep rallies are the members of the STUDENT ACTIVITIES COMMITTEE. The purpose of this group is to back the teams by rallies, away-game send-offs and airport welcomes, and to increase student interest in athletic programs.

Where the Student Activities Committee stops, the CHEER-LEADERS begin. Theirs is the task of welding a large number of excited spectators into a unified cheering group. Game-time warm-ups in cheering and songs, as their participation in the numerous half-time activities, make the cheerleaders invaluable in providing the much publicized "big-game atmosphere."
